IRISH LAND-PURCHASE BILL.

LONDON, July 17.—In the house of lords this evening Lord Ashbourne presented the Irish land-purchase bill. He explained that, owing to the limited time at its disposal, the government directed its energies to producing a shortword, able, non-contentious measure. The bill provides for the advance of three-fourths of the purchase money at 4 per cent. Interest for fortynine years. Where needed, the whole money will be advanced on conditions which, while just and generous, will not expose the government to risk of loss. It is therefore proposed in such cases to refain a deposit of one-flith of the purchase money at moderate interest until the tenant has repaid by installments an equal sum; also had, to utilize the firsh church sirplies to guarantee the state from utilizate hoss, but only after the foreflith red including the firsh church sirplies to guarantee the state from utilizated by the existing land commissioners for three years at a salary of £2.000 a year. The government thought it too late in the session to appoint an entirely new commission, it is also proposed to create a cheap and simple form for the conveyance of land. Earl Spencer approved the measure.

[Replying to questions Lord Ashbourne said: The government proposed to the smooth of money to be advanced to £5.000,000. The bill passed its first reading.

The Parnellites appear to be antisfied with the bill, and it will probably speedily pass both houses. IRISH LAND-PURCHASE BILL.

SALISBURY-PARNELL ALLIANCE.

LOSDON, July 18.—The News, in a leading editorial to-day, says: The signs of an alliance between the Marquis of Salisbury and Parnell are obvious. We know of mothing more discreditable in the listory of parliament than this combination of conservatives and Parnellites in an attempt to deery their predecessors, unless it be the effrontery with which the compact is disclosed. The Marquis of Salisbury has made Parnell nore complete than ever master of Ireland, and almost master of Ireland, and almost master of Ireland, and simost master of infeact, regrets that the ministers appear inclined to maintain themselves in their present position by an unificient in the ministers appear inclined to maintain themselves in their present position by an unificient in the contract of the same that the ministers appear inclined to maintain themselves in their present position by an undue indulgence of Irish demands, and hopes that the conservatives will not adopt Lord Randolph Churchill's policy of disclaiming responsibility for the acts of their predecessors. The conservative party, says the Telegraph, must assume the responsibility for some of those acts, and the country will not allow it to repudiate them with impunity.

EAST SAGINAW, MICH., July 17.-The de

There is no change in the situation to-night. Only three mills at this end of the river are running.

CHICAGO, July 17.—The ham-sawing employes at Armour & Co.'s packing house have struck for an increase of wages to 80 cents per 100 pounds. On Wednesday men were put to work in their places at 70 cents per 100 pounds, the old price. When the new men were returning from work Wednesday night they were attacked by the strikers, and three of them were badly beaten. There was no disturbance yesterday, but more irouble is anticipated.

BAY CHY, MICH., July 17.—There is no particular change in the situation of the strike to day from that of last evening. All the works running yesterday continue to-day. The militia paraded last evening, and the streets were ince with people. The nest feeling prevalls between the citizens and soidiers. The strikers have evidently settled down to the idea that their former policy of interfering with establishments destring to run will not be tolerated.

The prosecuting attorney and the s.e. iff decided to-day that the presence of the troops is still necessary. Mr. Long, state labor commissioner, is here looking over the situation and gathering facts and stalistics. Drafts are already being made on the donations by destitute strikers. It is estimated that there are 18,000 mouths to feed among the strikers. The Myers mill starts to-morrow morning on the foliowing terms: Stoppage occur occasionally in all mills aren go to work ten hours at nil pay, the mill stops lost time to be charged to the men, and at the end of the month they will take it up without pay. The agreement is entirely satisfactory to both partles. This gives hopes that the plan may be generally adopted.

CLEVELAND, OHIO, July 17.—Last night was quiet in the iron-ward. The streets were described early, and there was no excitement whatever. Very few policemen were on duty in the ward, and there were none at the mills, A stranger would not have known from appearances that the day before had witnessed a bloody riot, in which several persons were severely injured. A feeling of insecurity has settled upon the citizens, and they are anxious to see the end of the trouble.

tied upon the citizens, and they are anxious to see the end of the trouble.

A notice was posted in the mills this morning announcing that the mills would be closed indefinitely or until the men were willing to return to work. This has somewhat allayed the feeling of unrest, as the men who were willing to resume work in the mills were afraid to do so for fear of being waylaid and murdered or of having their houses burned. The police authorities feel confident that there will not be another outbreak until the mills are started up or the men paid off. The foreign elements of the strike feel their defeat keenly, and threats are made, and they assert that they will yet be misters of the situation.

The strikers still continue to drill. They have secured a formidable collection, composed mainly of ancient foreign manuacture. Within two or three days they have purchased 400 rounds of annountition at a gun store in this city. The police expect to make a number of arrests to-morrow. The theveland rolling mill will pay the strikers off, and the authorities are or the opinion that trouble will occur.

After Goddard gook the money, which belonged to a customer in Germany, he disappeared. He afterward did several heroic acts dwing the yellow lever scounge in Mcmphis. From there he went to Minneapolis, where he became a prosperous merchant and prominent in society. In court to-day Mr. Corbin secundariated that as Goddard had made restitution and a good name for himself he did not care to press the charge. Mr. Goddard presented Judge Cowing with a petition in his savor signed by 505 ciffsens of Minnesota, Including Gov. L. P. Hubbard and Mayor George H. Phisbary, of Minneapolis. After some deliberation Judge Cowing discharged Goddard on his own recognizance.

THE BIG BURN-OUT.

Notes of the Losses and Insurance—The Electric Lights Dark.

EAST SAGINAW, MICH., July 17.—The departure of fifty-two of Pinkerton's men from Saginaw City last night was due to the fact that the mill owners are paying off their hands and making preparations for a long rest. Hence they will no longer feel like incurring the expense of maintaining the Pinkerton force. The men employed by Hamilton, McClure & Co., whose mill had been running two days, were intimidated last night, and declined to go to work this morning, consequently the mill was again shut down, and it will not be started again until the strike is over.

It is reported that the men employed in the salt works of E. F. Gould, at Carroliton, were driven out this morning by the strikers armed with clubs. The works were shut down and turned over to the sheriff. The state millith are employed in guarding the water works and other property.

few days ago Sergt Brainard received notification that the President wished to see him, and a similar invitation was sent to Lieut, Greely, Yesterday Sergt, Brainard called at the white house, Lieut, Greely being unavoidably absent on account of sickness. The President held a long conversation with him about his experiences in the Arctic regions and listened with pleasure to the vivid recitals given. On leaving the white house the sergeant's face was wreathed in smiles and his joyous step indicated that he had beard good news. It was soon reported that the President ind told the sergeant that he would appoint him to a licetenancy in the army. It is also announced that his appointment will be to a cavairy regiment, but which one is not known. Sergeant Haminard is very reticent about the matter and refuses to speak about his good fortune, but enough is known that the appointment has been given him. President Cleveland's act will be duly appreciated by the people of the land, who long have desired to see the herole Brainard rewarded for his brave achievements.
